| PEPPER NOTE: Most pepper varieties start with an initial color phase, most typically green and yellow. As the season progresses and enough heat days are acquired, they transition through color phases. Some varieties we grow to simply produce a good green bell and sweet yellow varieties. And we've always had excellent luck getting beautiful purple peppers to produce, warm or cool season. The red and orange phases take more heat days, which can be difficult for northern MN to acquire. The varieties we grow, not only taste good at their green phase, but also, with the right season, give us a fighting chance at getting a red or orange phase as well. Fingers crossed! ❤️ | | |  | ANTOHI ROMANIAN, SWEET 53-78 DAYS Eastern European frying pepper. Smooth, 4" by 2" wide, tapered pointed fruits are pale yellow and ripen red. Heavy yield. Heirloom. | |
